Re: United Metals Recycling Ltd.

To whom It may concern,

In July 2013 Diamond Innovations Ireland Operations engaged United Metals Recycling as the main contractor to decommission their production plant in Clonshaugh, Dublin 17.

This project involved removing heavy engineering process equipment and ensuring it was disposed of in a way that put proprietary process equipment beyond use.

The decommissioning project is still underway and scheduled to be completed in March 2014. United Metals have performed the contract in a highly satisfactory manner to date. All works were carried out to a high standard to comply with EHS and regulatory requirements.

I have no hesitation in recommending United Metals Recycling Ltd to other prospective clients.

Best regards,
